

REPORT ON THE ACTIVITIES OF THE UNION OF THE BALTIC CITIES

18 October 2003 (Klaipėda) – 1 October 2005 (Turku)

Introduction

Since the VII General Conference of the Union of the Baltic Cities, held in Klaipėda on 17-18 October 2003, the Union has further consolidated its network, launched new projects and political initiatives, organised a number of conferences, seminars and events.

The Union developed existing and established new contacts with other Baltic and European organisations and institutions i.e. European Commission, European Parliament, Committee of the Regions, Council of Europe's Congress of Local and Regional Authorities of Europe, Council of the Baltic Sea States, Parliamentary Conference on Cooperation in the Baltic Sea Area, Baltic Sea States Subregional Cooperation, CPMR Baltic Sea Commission, Eurocities, Helsinki Commission, Baltic 21, VASAB 2010, Baltic Ports Organisation, Conference of Atlantic Arc Cities, Lake Victoria Region Local Authorities Cooperation and others.

In 2004 UBC was granted with an observer status to the Committee of the Regions which proves that Brussels recognizes the work carried out by our organisation. Through the participation in the Committee of the Regions Plenary Sessions UBC has a chance to influence the work and policies of this important European Union institution. Since receiving the observer status UBC has been regularly attending the COR Plenary Sessions.

UBC has also signed the cooperation agreement with the Conference of Atlantic Arc Cities (CAAC), during CAAC General Assembly in July 2004. UBC cooperation with CAAC focuses on lobbying for cities interests on one hand and on facilitating joint projects between our member cities on the other hand. Since the cooperation agreement was signed there has been intense partner search between Baltic and Atlantic cities for Interreg and other EU-funded projects.

Examples of policy issues raised by UBC

Dialogue between the European Commission and associations of local authorities

At the General Conference in Klaipėda, 18 October 2003, UBC adopted the resolution appealing to the European Commission for regular consultations with local authorities associations, on EC policies which affect local authorities. In January 2004 Commissioner Michel Barnier sent a letter to UBC informing that on 19 December 2003 the Commission adopted a communication on "Dialogue with associations of regional and local authorities on the formulation of EU policy". In this communication the EC proposed to give the regional and local representatives an opportunity of expressing their views – via their associations – during annual hearings which would concentrate on the Commission's annual work programme, and the major policy initiatives that have a significant regional and local impact.

UBC and our sister organisation Conference of Atlantic Arc Cities welcomed the EC communication as continuation of the work began with the publication of White Paper on Governance. However CAAC and UBC were of the opinion that consultations between the EC and local authorities associations should take a form of a dialogue; it can not be only one-way communication.

Both organisations sent a joint statement to the European Commission expressing their views on proposed consultation procedures. In the statement UBC and CAAC underlined that the communication, in outlining the purpose of the dialogue, made no mention of the possibility for national and European associations to make their own priorities, concerns and proposals known to the European institutions. The presentation of the dialogue was limited to a description of the procedures for presenting the Commission's priorities and initiatives, to which the regional and local government associations are asked to react. In the statement we stressed that a genuine dialogue can only be established if all various partners have the possibility not only to react to but also to initiate subjects for discussion. It is essential that regional and local authorities are able to obtain information and exchange points of view before decisions are taken. It is just as important for them to be able – via this dialogue – to introduce and debate questions concerning their own needs, to which the European Union has to find a response.

UBC and CAAC also underlined to the Commission that not only the national organisations should be heard in this dialogue (which is stated in the draft of the new EU treaty) but also organisations like ours.

In the statement which was sent to the EC President and Regional Policy Commissioner we welcomed an opportunity to meet the Commission on regular basis and at the same time we expressed our opinion that organisations should not only be informed about EU policies but also should be given an opportunity to influence these policies.

Our reaction was noted in Brussels. Director General of Regional Policy replied in a letter that annual meetings “will offer the opportunity to the associations to inform the Commission about the expectations of their members concerning the development of EU policies”. The joint UBC-CAAC statement proved that acting together make our voice stronger in Brussels.

The first dialogue meeting between the EC and the local and regional authorities organisations was organised by President Romano Prodi in May 2004 in Brussels. The meeting was attended by the most important European organisations including the UBC. UBC has also participated in the second dialogue meeting held in Brussels in February 2005 at the invitation of CoR President Peter Straub and Commission President José Manuel Barroso.

Transport and logistics issues

In the beginning of 2004 the UBC Presidium expressed an opinion that there is a need for some structure within UBC which would deal with the issues of transport / logistic corridors in the Baltic Sea area. UBC shares the opinion that modern port and land transportation infrastructure coordinated with maritime transport is crucial for further development of the BSR. In 2002 UBC issued statements on EU white book on transportation and on Trans European Network (TEN), in order to get greater EU attention on the BSR transportation problems.

Having in mind above, the Executive Board decided to create a task force on logistics to be responsible for preparing the UBC policies on this crucial issue which is the transportation (logistic) corridors system in the BSR. The Board also suggested that transportation and logistics corridors in the BSR should be one of the main themes of the General Conference in Turku. UBC realises that improvement of transportation corridors is essential for further development of the whole region.

UBC received the European Commission's consultation document on “Motorways of the Seas” concept to be financed through the revised Trans-European Network Transport Guidelines (TEN-T). UBC logistic task force welcomed the Commission's implementation framework of the “Motorways of the Seas” concept and expressed hope it would contribute to the improvement of intermodal transportation system in the BSR.

The task force emphasises that improved transport and logistical connections, including Motorways of the Seas, have become critically important prerequisites for development and competitiveness of our countries, regions and cities. This applies especially to the BSR, one of the most dynamic regions of Europe. During the General Conference in Turku the task force shall prepare a workshop on the Motorways of the Seas and the logistic issues.

Cross-border cooperation and Cohesion Policy

In December 2004, on the UBC's initiative, the major Baltic Sea organisations namely B7, BSSSC, CPMR-BSC and UBC sent the joint statement to the European Commission on the objective 3 of the reformed cohesion policy from 2007 – European Territorial Cooperation. The statement emphasizes the fact that the cross-border cooperation in the Baltic Sea Region may be severely harmed if the limit of 150 km for maritime border is introduced.

The aforementioned Baltic Sea organisations consider that the maximum distance of 150 km of maritime border - to be eligible to obtain funding for cross-border projects – is counter-productive to the very idea of strengthening the territorial cooperation and therefore we object to it.

We expect from the European Commission a more flexible approach taking into account existing cooperation in various fields between the partners on both sides of maritime border as well as historical, social, cultural and economical factors which justify cooperation across larger distance than mentioned above.

In January 2005 the EC replied - in the letter from the Director in DG General Regional Policy Mr Ronald Hall – that the Commission intends to introduce 150 km threshold for the cross-border strand and that multilateral maritime cooperation would make more sense under the transnational strand.

In March 2005 the President sent the statement also to all prime ministers of ten Baltic Sea countries. UBC hopes that all Baltic Sea governments will strongly take up this issue during the negotiations on the new cohesion policy 2007-2013. The Executive Board members contacted respective PM's cabinets and ministries in their countries and urged them to raise this problem in Brussels.

During the April session of the Committee of the Regions UBC Board member spoke to the Commissioner on Regional Policy Ms Danuta Huebner about the 150 km limit for maritime border. Ms Huebner supported UBC statement and promised to take up this issue in the European Commission.

As regards transnational cooperation strand mentioned in the letter from Mr Hall, it should be stressed that proposed areas for cooperation within the transnational strand have very little to do with the tasks of the local authorities. The proposed topics lie within the competence of state and regional authorities. It is necessary to complement these areas otherwise the cities will not be able to cooperate in the fields they are responsible for and interested in.

The above standpoint on transnational cooperation strand is expressed in the position paper on the Cohesion Policy currently (September 2005) being drafted by B7, BSSSC, CPMR-BSC and UBC.

The UBC Statute and Strategy define sustainable development, with full respect to European principles of local and regional self-governance and subsidiarity, to be part of the purpose and strategic objectives of the Union. For the implementation of this objective, General Conference in Klaipėda 2003, adopted cross-sectoral Agenda 21 Action Programme 2004-2009 – Roadmap for Sustainable Baltic Cities. The programme is being implemented under the supervision of the Executive Board. The programme implementation has proceeded well, programme is reaching a concrete impact on the ground at UBC member cities. The programme activities target five thematic focus areas: Good governance and sustainable urban management; Sustainable use of energy and resources; Good living environment and nature protection; Sustainable economy and transport; Social integration and health. The programme has reached its volume goal of 10 Million Eur. This funding is today committed by decisions and contracts of different partners and funding agencies towards the implementation of the projects and other program activities. The first programme assessment, the Baltic Cities Sustainable Development Survey 2004/2005 has been completed. The answering rate of 73% both reflects the interest and commitment of UBC members and provides an excellent basis for analysis. According to the results, the member cities highly appreciate the services and projects provided within the programme.

The activities of the EnvCom have during the reporting period included the thematic seminars with up to 70 participants in each of them. These were organised in Sundsvall April 2004, Turku December 2004 and Sopot in June 2005. Baltic Cities Environmental Bulletin has been developed and thematic editions have been published. Many of the Agenda 21 projects have a strong environmental dimension and much of the work on them belongs to the EnvCom. For example the New Hansa of Sustainable Ports and Cities, EMAS Peer Review for Cities, etc. The commission has continued the Best Environmental Practice in Baltic Cities Award scheme. The website has been regularly up-dated and contact data-bases maintained. The commission has contributed strongly to Baltic Sea Regional and European policy cooperation processes on cities' environmental governance and sustainable urban development. The commission has represented UBC at Baltic 21, HELCOM, EU Urban Environmental Expert Group and EU WG on Environmental Management Systems.

V. Commission on Health & Social Affairs

The Commission on Health & Social Affairs is led by the City of Rostock, Germany.

During the meeting at the General Conference in Klaipėda the Commission decided to re-organise and re-orientate its work towards the needs of the cities ie. on the UBC Social Charter and on EU priorities. It was decided to organise task force meetings with selected participants to deal with special topics. Guidelines for the activities of the Commission should be the Social Charter and the EU Strategy Against Poverty and Social Exclusion.

In January 2004 the 1st task force meeting took place in Rostock. Participants from 9 member cities met to define the working direction and methods. Participants described situations in their cities. As a result of this analysis two working groups were set up: the WG on Children and Youth on Risk chaired by Riga and Gävle and the WG on Employment chaired by Klaipėda and Helsinki. Also a Social Charter WG was set up, responsible for implementation of Charter goals within UBC cities. Further debated themes were: EU Strategy on Poverty and Social Exclusion - how to work with it in the municipalities; experiences in EU projects design, application, implementation and follow-up and the Open Method of Coordination as an instrument of international cooperation.

On 14 May 2004 the 2nd task force meeting (4 cities) took place in Riga. It was concluded as follows. The WG Children and Youth on Risk should: work with exchange of experience on Children Crisis Centres; cooperate with Social Hansa - a joint meeting in Lübeck to be proposed; take part in the exchange programs of social workers. In September 2004 WG Children and Youth on Risk (3 cities) met in Stockholm. Main focus was "Strengthening of networking and more thematic meeting occasions". A questionnaire on key issues was to be developed with the purpose of getting a picture of cities priorities among different social fields. It is planned to organise workshops on cities prioritised fields, including representatives of CBSS and other relevant organisations.

management - exchange of information on mobility management tools to develop efficient sustainable transport habits.

In August 2003 a questionnaire was sent out to all member cities which were asked to indicate what subjects they are interested in and what could be topics for the commission to work with. The result was the forming of a working group of initially 6 cities: Göteborg, Tartu, Gdynia, Örebro, Norrköping and Nyköping. The group has during the period met three times in Göteborg, on 6 February 2004, 11 June 2004 and 6 September 2004. The TransCom network is continuously growing and today contains 47 cities from 9 different countries.

UBC Women’s Network

The UBC Women’s Network is chaired by Ms Ulla Lundqvist, Femina Aboensis, Turku.

At the GC in Klaipėda 2003 UBC Women’s Network (WN) decided to consolidate the network and to increase the knowledge about the situation of women in Europe. The Network adopted the following important areas to follow up: violence against women and trafficking, women’s entrepreneurship and women’s situation on European labour market.

In 2004 WN sent inquiry to the member cities to collect information on responsible persons appointed by the city-administrations to deal with gender equality issues. The Network also asked for information about yearly budgets and about women’s organisations in the cities. The answers indicated that member cities vary considerably in the degree of human and material resources appointed to gender equality issues. Especially in the “new” EU member states many municipalities reported that nothing (visible) has been done. But within UBC we also can find cities that have used resources to develop good practices. In 2005 a new inquiry was sent asking for the representation of women/men in municipal councils and city administration.

WN has discussed the equality issues of UBC organisation pointing out the importance of just and open appointment procedures. WN is of the opinion that today UBC is much male-dominated organisation. The Network supports the female candidate for the UBC Vice-President.

Participation in conferences

The coordinator took part in the committees preparing the 10th Anniversary Seminar of the Nordic Forum in Turku 12-13.8.2004. WN was invited to participate in the Forum. The Network annual meeting was held in Turku on 14.8.2004.

In 2005 the coordinator has participated in the international planning committee of the 4th Conference WoMen and Democracy. This Conference organized by St. Petersburg Social and Economic Institute, City of St. Petersburg and the Nordic Council of Ministers takes place on 6-9.10.2005 and expects to gather over 600 participants from all Baltic Sea countries. UBC as an organization participating in the planning has been given the benefit to invite 20 participants from the WN.

Projects

LIBRA 2003 project was coordinated by the City of Barcelona. The project gathered municipalities and regions from Italy, Hungary, England, Finland, Spain and networks - UBC WN through Femina Aboensis, Arco Latino, Urb-AI, Partenalìa. The results of the project were spread to the Network. Since the seminar in Turku in 2004 the Network is planning a project. As was the case in LIBRA it would become a project for municipalities, regions and networks. The Project would be coordinated by Femina Aboensis with WN as one partner.

In 2005 the coordinator was invited together with gender equality officials from Poland, Estonia and Nordic Countries to the seminar on Gender Mainstreaming in St.Petersburg 27.5.2005. The next day a discussion on the prospects of gender equality cooperation around the Baltic Sea took place.

The latest Women's Network annual meeting was held in Narva on 26.8.2005.

The Network decided to ask every member city to make an analysis on why young people have so little influence in their city, this analysis will be the basis for future activities of the network.

10-12 June 2005, Kurressaare

In Kurressaare it was decided to call the Vilnius conference "Young and Active in the Baltic Sea Region". The Network decided to employ a project administrator who will work full time with planning and evaluating the conference.
